

Workbench B with a special perforated plate and a ventilator
 This bench I use for working with Resin material all dust will get in the Filter (filter has to be cleaned every 10 working hours).

Workbench C with the airbrush cabin this cabin is movable on rail so that after a airbrush job it can be moved back and there is extra workspace.
 This system transports the paint fumes out to the open air, there are ventilator units that re circulate the air in your working room.
 In that case you have to ventilate the room very well because of the recirculating of the fumes of terpentine and thinners.
